Don't You Need - Melissa Etheridge (J = 86)

Em(7)C(9) Em(7)C(9) I had a dream late last night, the water was running low C(9) C(9) Em(7)Em(7)and my fields were on fire burning my sky. My body was moving slow H7Α7 and when I awoke I tasted the sweat of desire on my mouth. C(9) C(9) Em(7)Em(7)And I realized my heart had abducted my mindand they were last seen headed south. H7A7 Now I can't sleep, I'm so wired, and I find myself screaming out Em(7)D Don't you need? Don't you want? \mathbf{C} Can't you taste it when you're alone? Em(7)D Don't you cry? Don't you feel? \mathbf{C} Sometimes I wonder if you are real.

 $\begin{array}{c} {\bf H7} & ({\bf 2.} \rightarrow {\bf C} \ {\it Bridge}) \\ {\rm Don't \ you \ bleed? \ Don't \ you \ need?} \end{array}$

Em(7) C(9)

There's no quenching of thirst, there's no relief for the hungry at heart And as far as you're concerned I'm just a thief entertaining in the dark But it's you that holds the cards, now that the joker is wild.

Don't you need? ...

1

DC(9)Don't you want to lay it down and feel your skin against the ground?DC(9)Don't you want to ride the storm and then sleep inside the calm?DC(9)Don't you want to get that high? Don't you wanna be satisfied?DCmaj7H7Well, if you don't get that from me - Don't you need?

Em(7) C(9)

I had a dream late last night, the water was running low and my fields were on fire, burning my sky. How was I to know that I burn every night in my dreams and only morning can set me free ...

2